Visit of the Sedan Castle, possibility of biking to follow the boats on the local green trail "TransArdennes" in France which is called RAVel once in Belgium.

Discover the citadels down the river Meuse, during a weeklong rowing vacation renowned for its good atmosphere and organization. You will row across the Ardennes and catch sight of many places of history and wild nature. The tortuous course of the Meuse, overhung with Vauban citadels, runs along verdant bends laden with legends but soon gives way to an open valley boarded with steep cliffs and increasingly populated shores. Come enjoy regional meals and the warmth of the local hospitality and Belgian humour. Some sightseeing and animations will bring some variety to your stay. The DUO formula allows to alternate rowing and biking. The Ardennes section of the Voie Verte ("green trail"), known as the Trans Ardennaise, gives way to the RAVel once past the Belgian border, and allows friends and family to keep the rowers company all week long.
