1 DAY / 25 KM

ROWING LEVEL

At the foot of the Vercors massif, between Valence and Grenoble, you'll sail the peaceful waters of the Isère river, up until the Bourne affluent, a little river that finds its source in the limestone mountain range. After rowing upstream, the Isère for a few kilometres to admire the Sône castle sitting atop the waterfall of the garden of petrifying fountains, you will head South between reed beds and walnut orchards down to the confluence. Upon reaching Saint-Nazaire-en-Royans, you'll have the occasion to appreciate its shores of red ochre before passing under the aqueduct and then enjoy a panoramic view of the Vercors cliffs. Your companions will be able to enjoy the same itinerary on a paddle boat. Among the other point interests of the region, you will find : the prehistoric caves of Thaïs, the medieval village of Saint-Antoine-l'Abbaye, and the hanging houses of Pont-en-Royans, the hills of Chambaran, the walnuts, raviolis, and local cheese, such as the famed Saint-Marcellin.
